Greetings!

We hope you are well and enjoying 2016 thus far! We are excited to share this issue with you! We are kicking off the 19th year of the Delaware Valley HR Department of the Year Awards which you can read more about below. You can also learn how a long time client has continued their relationship with the Rosen Group even after moving out of the tri-state area. Not only do we fulfill our clients needs with the best candidates, we also build relationships that last!

Feel free to contact us with any comments or suggestions you may have for future newsletters. Thank you for reading and we hope to speak with you soon!

Building Strong Relationships-

Meeting a Client's Needs Across the Miles

The Rosen Group is one of very few firms in the NJ, NY, PA, and DE area that focuses on one, single area all day, every day - recruiting and assessing HR talent! We have a database of thousands of HR executives with a wide range of experience, expertise and talent at all levels all the way up to the VP HR level. So it was no surprise when a long time client who moved out of the tri-state area reached out to the Rosen Group when she needed to fill an HR position. While our primary focus is the Delaware Valley, this is a story how strong relationships can expand business and continue to fulfill a client's needs.

Alicia Brill, Director of Human Resources at Georgetown University Hospitals, first started working with the Rosen Group in 2002 while she was working for Lourdes Health System.

When Alicia initially made the move to Georgetown, she needed help filling an HR position. She immediately thought of the Rosen Group, and Senior Recruiter Marlyn Bennett. Marlyn found candidates in the area online with the help of social media, and she filled the position with a great candidate.

The relationship that Alicia and Marlyn built continues to thrive. When a new pilot program was introduced to use contractors instead of hiring permanent employees, Marlyn came through again by providing contractors who had superior customer service skills and kept everything going even with the steep learning curve for the positions.

Alicia went on to say that the Rosen Group provides a specialty service in focusing on HR people which is a very valuable selling point.

In closing Alicia spoke about the Rosen Group overall, and her primary contact Marlyn Bennett. "Marlyn just gets it. Especially when you're in a pinch. I would call the Rosen Group no matter who I'm with. Marlyn does it all!"

We thank Alicia for taking the time to share her experience with us. If you have an experience you would like to share (as a contractor or client), please contact our Marketing Manager, Lynda Cusano.
